

DOCUMENTATION

Upon completion this will be: "Programmers documentation. This should include a high-level description of how my system works and any major or important data structures (such as classes and class hierarchies). This will be roughly 400 words in length and might include a diagram or two."